What is CircleCityCon?

CircleCityCon is an annual Information Security Conference in Downtown Indianapolis. Organized since 2014, the conference has brought together more than 3000 attendees since that 1st year of 150 attendees. We now boast an attendeeship of 700+ hackers, students, consultants, directors, analysts, VPs, CISOs, and security professionals of all experience levels.

With our hallmark free trainings, we have provided over 70 classes on topics ranging from security tool usage to advanced exploitation techniques, security fundamentals usage to presenting to executives and more.

Villages remain a staple of the conference. These are specialty groups who bring activities and hands on learning around focused areas of security. Lockpicking, Hardware Hacking, Car Hacking, and Bio Hacking (body implants) are examples of villages that can be found at CircleCityCon.

CircleCityCon also hosts contests and fun activities. We have an annual Capture the Flag competition that puts contestants' skills and mettle to the test. Puzzles, obscure binaries, web apps to be attacked, and social engineering challenges are highlighted during this contest. There are also other fun puzzles, contests, and surprise shenanigans that unfold as the conference goes on. You have to be there to find out!

In addition to the annual conference, CircleCityCon is organized under C3 Conferences INC as a nonprofit organization registered with the IRS as a 501(c)(3) organization. We raise funds to put on the conference, but also to provide grants to people of limited finances and privilege who are wanting to gain skills in IT and InfoSec.

If you are interested in providing a grant in your company's name, please do let us know!
